

Solaris Announces Transition Plan For Current Chief Operating Officer Role

October 03, 2024

HOUSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Solaris Energy Infrastructure, Inc. (NYSE:SEI) ("Solaris" or the "Company") today announced that Kelly Price, Chief Operating Officer (COO), will be retiring from the Company, effective December 31, 2024. Mr. Price has served as Solaris' COO since early 2017 and will continue to support the Company during the transition period to ensure a smooth handover of responsibilities. Upon retirement, Mr. Price will serve as an advisor to the Company throughout 2025.

"On behalf of our Board of Directors and the Company, I want to express my deepest appreciation for Kelly and his contributions to Solaris. Kelly has been an integral part of the Solaris executive team since joining us in 2017 prior to our Initial Public Offering. Kelly's leadership in driving operational efficiency and delivering strategic organic initiatives has contributed to the overall growth and success of the Company. I wish Kelly all the best in his well-deserved retirement," Bill Zartler, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Solaris commented.

In connection with Mr. Price's retirement, the Company will commence a search for a successor to the COO role and expects to consider both internal and external candidates.
